

There is no identity as "mind" having a ipseity.
This is refuted by the experimental model.
The archaic idea of a mind as individual identity, is abstract and diffuse, it belongs more to the realm of belief.

First map conceptual Mental Process.

Summary: First map conceptual Mental Process.
There is no mind, as something with ipseity.
There is a Mental Process, in continuous development, which can be observed with the experimental method.